

2014 Hux-Kiteley Exemplary Justice Educator Award presented to Toronto Law teacher

Kris Kozell is the 2014 recipient of the Hux-Kiteley Exemplary Justice Educator Award. Kris taught law at Monarch Park Collegiate Institute until her retirement last year. She was recognized for her contributions to advancing justice education programming in the Toronto area through her nine years of participation in the OJEN/ROEJ Toronto Regional Committee and for her innovative teaching style.

The award was presented at a reception at Osgoode Hall during the Toronto Summer Law Institute on Tuesday, August 26th with many of her colleagues from the education and justice sectors in attendance.
