

The right legal information solves problems.

FREE public legal information sessions – May 7, 2013

Session One: Where there's a Will there's a way learn about wills and how to protect your family with proper planning

Session Two: Don't sweat the small stuff at Small Claims Court learn what to do if you are suing or being sued for money or property under $25,000

Everyone needs legal help and information at some point.

In two, free, one-hour sessions, lawyers and paralegals will provide you with helpful information and explain common concerns about wills and Small Claims Court. You will have an opportunity at the end of each session to ask the lawyers and paralegals questions.

All are welcome to attend one or both sessions.

Advance registration for this free event is required by May 3 to ensure a seat. Please register online www.ojen.ca/registerMay7 or by phone: 416-947-3413/1-800-668-7380 ext. 3413

Presented by The Law Society of Upper Canada, Ontario Justice Education Network and Community Legal Education Ontario, with the generous support of the Ontario Civil Legal Needs Project and Legal Aid Ontario, Pro Bono Law Ontario and The Law Foundation of Ontario.
